

A note for Rosemont Real Estate

Prepared for Casey and Joy Sutherland, Rosemont Real Estate, Alexandria · September 16, 2026

WHO WE ARE

We are a small operational support studio. Real estate is not new to us, we built the website, content, and AI systems behind Real Cavalry, a San Antonio brokerage, ran a two-year marketing partnership with a Texas real estate investment firm, and built the email and CRM systems behind a real estate closing company. That is the same work we would bring here: the content, the follow-up, and the systems that keep a pipeline warm between closings.

WHAT WE NOTICED ABOUT ROSEMONT REAL ESTATE

You are already doing real things well:

- Founded by Alexandria natives Casey and Joy Sutherland, an independent brokerage on North Washington Street, licensed in Virginia, Maryland and DC.
- A fuller offer than most small firms: buying, selling and property management, for landlords and tenants as well as homeowners.

Where we see the fastest room to grow:

- The About copy on the homepage is showing garbled characters where the punctuation should be. It reads every client,Äand every transaction, and the same break appears three times. Visitors see it in the first paragraph that introduces you.
- There is no blog and no email signup. The market statistics links send visitors off to association websites rather than to anything of yours, so the people researching Alexandria leave with nothing to come back to.

WHAT WE WOULD DO FIRST

Fix the broken characters first, it is a small job. Then write one short Alexandria and Northern Virginia market note a month, with a signup underneath, so the statistics visitors look for live on your site instead of someone else's.

THE SIMPLEST NEXT STEP

A short call, no pitch deck required, just to see if this is a fit. You can also see exactly how we work, and the real estate systems we have already built, at balaynibruno.co/real-estate-agent-marketing.html.
