

Astra AI: what we found, and how we would help

Prepared for your Creator Program Manager (Philippines) opening · September 17, 2026 · Public checks of astra-ai.co

IN ONE PARAGRAPH

Astra AI is in good shape for a Philippines launch: a fast site, a Philippine English version already live, a creators platform in place, and Instagram, TikTok, LinkedIn and X all linked. The gaps are small and mostly about polish. Most homepage images have no alt text, and app login pages are showing up in public search. For a creators program, the bigger opportunity is operational: a Philippine creator roster that is vetted for fit, briefed well and tracked from outreach to paid post.

WHAT IS ALREADY WORKING

- The site loads over HTTPS in under a second on our check, and a Philippine English version (en-PH) is live.
- Google Tag Manager is installed and structured data is present.
- A sitemap is referenced in robots.txt, with separate sitemaps for each language and market.
- Instagram, TikTok, LinkedIn and X are linked from the site, and a creators platform is already running.
- A public search of your domain shows the main site and teacher pages indexed.

FINDINGS BY RISK

Image alt text	Medium	66 of the 92 images on the homepage have no alt text. Alt text helps accessibility and image search. For a study app, it also shows students on screen readers that the product was built with them in mind.
Search results	Low	A public search of your domain returns app login and onboarding pages alongside the marketing site. Login screens in search results waste a click. Keeping app pages out of the index sends searchers to pages that explain the product first.
Ad tracking	Low	A Meta Pixel and TikTok Pixel are not visible in the homepage code. Tag Manager is installed, so they may load from there. If creator content is later boosted as paid ads in the Philippines, those events are what let you measure installs from each creator. A quick check confirms it.

WHAT WE WOULD DO FIRST

- Adapt your creator playbook to the Philippines: target niches, local platforms and the content formats students here actually watch.
- Build a vetted roster, checking audience fit and engagement quality, not just follower count.
- Run outreach, onboarding and briefs, and chase content to delivery on a fixed weekly rhythm.
- Track every creator from first message to paid post and results in one place.
- Report weekly on what each creator produced, and which formats drove sign ups.

A USEFUL WAY TO START

If you bring us on for this role, the first week includes a starter list of Philippine study and student creators, each with a short note on why they fit, at no extra cost.

WHO WE ARE

Balay ni Bruno & Co. is a small operational support studio. You hire one person and get a team behind them: websites, email, social content, CRM automation and reporting that all speak with one voice.

- We run a creator outreach programme for a haircare brand: finding and vetting creators, outreach, briefing and chasing content to delivery.
- RJ previously did creator outreach for Houston Kold Reels and ran LinkedIn lead generation at OMNI.
- We are based in the Philippines and run social content, including short form video, for several brands.

HOW WE CHECKED

Checked from the outside on September 17, 2026: homepage code and headings, tracking tags, robots.txt and sitemap, structured data, image alt text, linked social profiles, a public site search of your domain. We did not log in to anything and we have no access to your analytics or ad accounts, so anything below marked not checked is exactly that.

- Your creators platform, playbook and current creator results.
- Your analytics, app store data and ad accounts.
- Page speed scores, because Google's PageSpeed service did not respond during our check.
