

Noviaré: what we found, and how we would help

Prepared for your Creator Operations Manager opening · September 16, 2026 · Public checks of noviare.co

IN ONE PARAGRAPH

Your creator programme is built to send people looking for Noviaré, and the store has plenty to show them: 193 products and a clear promise on the homepage. The risk is what happens when they search. A public search of your domain returned a single product page, and most homepage images have no alt text, which matters for a product people discover visually.

WHAT IS ALREADY WORKING

- The Shopify store loads over HTTPS, with 193 products published.
- The headline "The everyday pieces you never have to take off" is clear and memorable.
- Email signup is live, structured data is present, and the sitemap is referenced in robots.txt.
- Instagram, TikTok and Pinterest are linked from the site, and the footer is current for 2026.

FINDINGS BY RISK

Search visibility	High	A public search for pages on your domain returned one product page. Creator posts send people to search for the brand. If only one page appears, many of them will not reach the collection. Worth confirming in Google Search Console.
Image alt text	Medium	151 of the 177 images on the homepage have no alt text. Jewellery is found visually. Alt text is how image search and screen readers understand each piece.
Attribution	Medium	GA4 and the Meta Pixel are not visible in the page code. Shopify can load them through customer events, which do not show from outside. Affiliate codes show which creator made a sale, but site analytics show what creator traffic did before buying. Worth confirming in your Shopify admin.
Spelling	Low	The meta description uses "jewelry" and "Noviare" without the accent, while your site title uses "Jewellery" and "Noviaré". A small consistency fix for a UK brand.
Headings	Low	The homepage has two H1 headings, and one of them is empty. One written main heading is clearer for search engines.

WHAT WE WOULD DO FIRST

- Run the monthly creator cycle on fixed dates: applications, product selections, orders, shipping and content collection.
- Check every Shopify order against the creator's selection and address before it ships, because this role touches money.
- File creator content in Google Drive with consistent naming, so your video editor always knows what is new.
- Reconcile commissions against delivered content before payouts, and send weekly and monthly reports.
- Flag the indexing and alt text gaps for your team, since creator traffic depends on them.

A USEFUL WAY TO START

If you bring us on for this role, the first week includes a one page payout reconciliation checklist built around your programme dates, at no extra cost.

WHO WE ARE

Balay ni Bruno & Co. is a small operational support studio. You hire one person and get a team behind them: websites, email, social content, CRM automation and reporting that all speak with one voice.

- We run a creator outreach programme for a haircare brand: vetting, outreach, briefing and chasing content to delivery.
- We build and run Shopify stores, including srivierehair.com. RJ previously led the Shopify build and product listings for Crown Limited Supply.
- For Freccia Construction, a custom builder in Austin, Texas, we checked ad conversion tracking before launch and fixed it before any new budget was spent.

HOW WE CHECKED

Checked from the outside on September 16, 2026: homepage code and headings, tracking tags, robots.txt and sitemap, structured data, image alt text, linked social profiles, a public site search of your domain. We did not log in to anything and we have no access to your analytics or ad accounts, so anything below marked not checked is exactly that.

- Your UpPromote, Notion and Shopify admin.
- Your analytics, Search Console and social insights.
- Page speed scores, because Google's PageSpeed service did not respond during our check.
