

A note for Hilary Barras

Prepared for Hilary Barras, Keller Williams Heritage, New Braunfels · September 11, 2026

WHO WE ARE

We are a small operational support studio. Real estate is not new to us, we built the website, content, and AI systems behind Real Cavalry, a San Antonio brokerage, ran a two-year marketing partnership with a Texas real estate investment firm, and built the email and CRM systems behind a real estate closing company. That is the same work we would bring here: the content, the follow-up, and the systems that keep a pipeline warm between closings.

WHAT WE NOTICED ABOUT HILARY BARRAS

You are already doing real things well:

- You built your own branded site rather than living on the brokerage page, and it is clear about the ground you cover: Seguin, New Braunfels and La Vernia. Most agents in the corridor never get that far.
- The background behind the licence is real. Years across real estate, mortgage and insurance, which is a genuinely useful mix when a deal gets complicated late.

Where we see the fastest room to grow:

- The site has exactly one form on it and it is a property search. There is no email capture at all, so every visitor who searches homes and leaves is gone with no way to reach them again.
- hilaryselltexas.com redirects to hilaryselltexas.net. It works, but it splits the brand across two domains and anything printed or spoken with the .com sends people through a redirect.

WHAT WE WOULD DO FIRST

Put a working capture on the site so the search traffic you already have turns into a list you own, then send a short monthly note on the Seguin and New Braunfels market. The search tool is already doing the hard part of getting people there, it just has nothing to hand them.

THE SIMPLEST NEXT STEP

A short call, no pitch deck required, just to see if this is a fit. You can also see exactly how we work, and the real estate systems we have already built, at balaynibruno.co/real-estate-agent-marketing.html.
